Gilbert Reid on Flirting

Gilbert Reid's career resembles a kaleidoscopic interplay of brightly coloured pieces as a diplomat, economist, critic, writer of short stories and novels, or radio and television producer of award-winning documentaries is called upon.

With a brilliant mind, magnetic presence, a repartee charged with ready access to international art, literature and film, this expert on culture and eroticism leads us through the lighter side. From his series on flirting for CBC Radio One, Gilbert Reid shares the history, film highlights and techniques of this charming pass-time.
